

Sko-Die Overview

Sko-Die is a third generation, family owned and operated outsource manufacturing specialist located in Morton Grove, Illinois. We specialize in supplying custom steel laminations, heavy gauge metal stampings, tooling, and assemblies; supporting manufacturers from initial product development to full production.

Since our early days in 1947, we have taken a long term approach to running our business. Our commitment to ongoing investment in new technology as well as in advancing and sharpening our employees' skill sets has set us apart in the industry and made us invaluable partners to our customers. Each Sko-Die employee averages over 16 years of service with the company, creating an unparalleled team of professionals dedicated to excellence.

Our comprehensive array of design and manufacturing capabilities and value added services ensures that you will have a single source partner focused on delivering high quality stampings and assemblies on time.
